ANIMALS FOR FOOD

WRITE AN EXPOSITION

Animals have long been raised as food for humans. These animals are known as production animals. We get pork from pigs, lamb from sheep, steak from cows etc.

People may be either for or against using animals for food. Write an exposition arguing your point of view. Give your reasons. Present your exposition to the class.

(Read domestic/wild/production animals on the AVA PetPEP website for more information)

NOTE: An exposition is a point of view. Expositions can be in the form of an essay or a letter to the editor.

An exposition begins with an opinion. There is a statement of your point of view and a preview of the arguments. Each argument to support your point of view is then outlined.

The final paragraph, the reiteration, reinforces your point of view.

© Australian Veterinary Association Ltd
www.ava.com.au/petpep